GOVERNMENT SURVEYOR

EMMELUTH STILL TROTS ON THE WARPATH.The House Talks Long About the Surveyor and Finally Cuts His Salary $300 a Year.The session of the House of Representatives this morning was as devoid of startling incidents as the proceedings of Monday had been full of them. The survey department was considered.
Just before adjournment the salary of the surveyor was fixed at $2,400, instead of $2,600.Emmeluth said that the survey department was too expensive at the present time, it was often difficult and even impossible to obtain desired information, which should be in the surveyor's office. He had only recently paid one of the employees of that department $200 for information and drawings which should have been free to the public. If the officer drew $200 from him, in addition to his regular salary there was no telling how many such bonuses had been obtained from other sources.Prendergast followed in the same strain. He was in favor of doing away with everything that was not absolutely necessary. He recommended that the office of surveyor and two assistants and chief assistant be dispensed with.
Dickey spoke in favor of retaining the position of meteorologist. This said Dickey was the man who had made Emmeluth's surveying. He had done the work on his own time, and not as a government employee. The survey department should be kept up, and kept up well. The Organic Act says distinctly "there shall be a surveyor." If this position is dispensed with, the Organic Act will be violated.Prendergast said that a road engineer had been appointed only a few days ago. The speaker unrolled a blue print at this point and pointed to certain lines on it, showing that the road that had been condemned, on account of Rapid Transit Company's business.
Prendergast urged, have carried their line through some government land, and the small landholders their property. The blue print, a large one, showed the Kamehameha IV road, the Kamehameha school, the insane asylum, and adjacent territory. A new survey had been made, which was much better than the original one which pleased the Transit people. The surveyors were insolent, and went through the property of private individuals, without permission. The survey offered by the committee was much better than the one submitted by the department.Emmeluth said that two-thirds of the expenses of the survey department were salaries. Houses were erected on the grades of 1880, and in less than a year the survey department came along and made the property holders raise their houses to suit a new grade. "You bet your life" said the speaker "if I owned property that these people tampered with, I would see that the government paid for it. I consider this department, like all the rest of the government departments things of the past. I am in favor of doing away with the whole 'gosh darned' lot."Dickey thought one man too little for this department. When it came to spreading out one surveyor over the whole of Hawaii he was pretty thin.
Emmeluth said that this was the very reason why the county bill was needed.
Makela then asked to have the floor.
On the grounds that Emmeluth had spoken three times on the same subject. This was the first time that the "gag law" had been worked during the extra session. He quoted the Organic Act's declaration that the territory must have a surveyor. Makela reviewed the history of surveying in the Hawaiian Islands. Much he said that had been done, would have to be done over. Old landmarks had been removed, and the new methods would considerably change the lines of the past.
The survey department was a credit to the Hawaiian people, and to the Hawaiian people.The salary of surveyor was reduced from $6,000 to $4,000. The house thereupon took a recess until 2 o'clock.

CHILDREN ENJOY THE FLAG

PICNICS FROM WAIKIKI TO PEARL HARBOR.Several Thousand Little Ones Make Merry—Excellent Lunches are Served and No Accidents Occur.The children of the different Sunday schools enjoyed themselves to their heart's content yesterday. At Oahu College, Waikiki, Pearl City and Diamond Head there were throngs of little ones, accompanied by their friends.
The grounds of Oahu College contained something like a thousand children of Central Union Church. A luncheon was served for the little ones during the middle of the day. This important part of the program was under the personal care of Mrs. Bell Jones, Mrs. Angus, Mrs. Case, Mrs. Brock, Miss Hall, and Miss Rice.The members of the Y. W. C. A. enjoyed an outing at the residence of Mrs. Hobron. A large number of ladies were present. At 12 o'clock, a most tempting luncheon was served.
In the afternoon, bathing was the chief amusement. It was not until after sundown that the band of merrymakers dispersed. Among the ladies who helped to make the occasion enjoyable, were: Mrs. H. C. Brown, Mrs.
Q. H. Berry, Miss Bertha and Dora Heitmann, Miss Jennie C. Carlson, Miss Lena Pilkington, Miss Avilla, Miss Mary Avilla, Miss Thomas, Miss Beer-man, Miss Sophia Beerman, Miss Marie Beerman, Miss Coombs, Miss Schmoor, Miss Keany, Mrs. Carlson, Miss Emily Carlson, Mrs. W. Rider, Mrs. L. M.
Robertson, Miss A. Alice Allen, Miss Frances Lawrence, Miss Grace Barrett, Miss Cora E. Panabaker, Miss Lucy M.
Loring, Miss Carry E. Bray, Miss Mabel E. Harlow, Miss L. A. Bagwell, Miss L. J. Biols, and Mr. C. H. Brown.The children of the Methodist Episcopal Church went to the Cassidy home, near Waikiki, which had kindly been thrown open to them. A delightful spread was prepared for the Sunday school students, and it was paid ample justice by the children. The following ladies had charge of the lunch: Mrs.
George L. Pearson, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs.
Kerns, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. O'Connell, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Coyne, Mrs. Walker, Mrs.
Rivenberg and Mrs. Downing.
Five carloads of little ones, who are members of the Sunday school of the Christian Church, went to Pearl City in the morning, and were entertainedon the grounds of W. W. Hall. The Sunday schools of the Central Church on Alakea street, the Japanese mission at Palama, and the Methodist and Kalihi churches also spent the day at the same place.At the grounds of Mr. Dillingham, the children of the Portuguese Sunday school enjoyed themselves.

PORTO RICAN VAGRANT

TOLD JUDGE WILCOX HE WAS SEEKING WORK.Court Permitted Defendant to Depart.
First Porto Rican Arrested for being Without Visible Means of Support.The first Porto Rican who has been arrested for vagrancy was before Judge Wilcox this morning to answer to the charge of having no visible means of support. Rannaldine Dia was his name.Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth stated that he had discovered the defendant asleep in the doorway of Davies and Company's warehouse and had placed the Porto Rican under arrest. The man appeared to be without means of support.In his defence Dia stated that his company with some other Porto Ricans he had come to this city from Hawaii on the Kinau for the purpose of seeking work on some of the plantations of Oahu. The Porto Ricans had been given to understand that the plantations here were better employers than those on the other islands. The men had intended to go down to Hana plantation but he got separated from the other men. He had no place to sleep so chose the most available place to rest.It was evident to the court that the man was not a vagrant so he told Dia to go at once and secure employment.
Captain Fox acted as interpreter.Up to the present the Porto Ricans appear to be quite a peaceful and well satisfied lot. There are always mis-contents in every war, and Dia and his companions became "mink-ed" of the first work given them and desired to make a change to some of the plantations on the other islands. Reports of the Porto Ricans are very satisfactory to the planters and there seems to be little regret felt over the importation of this character of labor.

TOMA'S SHINING PATE.

The most startling occurrence in Judge Wilcox's court this morning was the advent of Officer Toma Ahe with a bald pate. The energetic little brown man probably wagged his hair against Alma Nui in the race and had to pay the penalty by a visit to the barber shop.In any event Toma's head shone like a billiard ball and were it not that the goddess of Justice were blind already the rays from the brilliant pate might have blinded the poor old girl. Toma officiated as interpreter with his usual savagery.
